

Carey Peña is an Emmy award winning journalist, television personality, podcast host, and the Founder & CEO of Inspired Media 360.

After working behind the scenes as a writer and producer, Carey became a main anchor at 3TV covering some of the biggest breaking news stories including The Global War on Terror as well as local and national elections.

Carey has also spent time in front of the camera covering Hollywood red carpets, movie premieres and fashion events, such as American Idol and Mercedes Benz Fashion Week.

She's worked on various TV shows as a host and contributor including the nationally syndicated CBS show, "The Talk".

Carey is a well-known emcee and public speaker and a true philanthropist. She lends her time to dozens of charitable causes focusing on work that inspires positive change in our communities and across the country. She especially likes to focus on causes that empower women.

An innovator when it comes to social media, Carey created her dream company at the intersection of Tech and TV. Inspired Media 360 is a social-first shop that focuses on storytelling and content creation. Recently, IM360 opened their newly designed podcast and video production studios and offices in the Historic Coronado District in downtown Phoenix.
